HOUSE OF HORROR

Sleepy village reeling after 4 found dead

SHOCK: Cops at house where bodies were found

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A PICTURE postcard village was left reeling yesterday after a family of four and their dog were found dead.

The bodies of two adults and two children were discovered at a house in Woodmancote, near Chichester, West Sussex, on Monday evening.

Officers from Sussex Police attended the address after receiving a call raising concerns for the welfare of the residents.

They found the bodies – all believed to be members of the same family. The family dog was also found dead at the scene.

Police say they are treating it as a murder investigation but are not looking for anyone else in connection with the deaths.

Locals were stunned by at the deadly violence in their community.

Local resident Ian Richardson said: “I have never heard anything like that before, really.

“I think we consider ourselves a low crime area.”

Mr Richardson said it is a close community, but he did not know the occupants of the house.

He added: “I have tried to put it into context and think it’s something that happens all over the place.”

Chief Superintendent Jerry Westerman said: “This is believed to be an isolated incident contained to one property and in these early stages of the investigation we are not seeking anyone else.”

Locals were warned that they could expect to see a heightened police presence in the area.

The £500K property is home to builder Robert Needham, 42, his mother Maureen, 77, his partner Kelly Fitzgibbons, 40, and their two children Ava, five, and Lexi, three.

It is not clear which two of the three adults are dead.

Wimbo is due to run for two weeks from Monday June 29.

The French Open has already been pushed back four months to late September because of the coronavirus pandemic.

Goats ignore lockdown to party by sea

A GANG of goats was spotted strolling around the deserted streets of a seaside town during the nationwide lockdown.

Local resident Andrew Stuart joked he called the cops after he saw the animals breaking isolation rules by gathering in a large group in Llandudno, north Wales.

He said the goats were having a "midnight feast" on hedges and tweeted: "They were probably going to run riot on the town, what with nobody being about due to the lockdown.

"I also wasn't sure if they were keeping the required two metres apart."

He said officers rolled up in a patrol car, adding: "I'm sorry if the goats got arrested. But they were being very naughty."

'Desperate' NHS got scrubs from fetish supplier

A MEDICAL fetish company has donated its entire stock of disposable scrubs to a hospital after being contacted by "desperate" health officials.

MedFetUK said it had been contacted by NHS representatives across the country who were trying to get basic protective equipment and clothing for health workers tackling the coronavirus pandemic.

The company sent the "few sets" of scrubs it had to a hospital in the south of England.

"When we, a tiny company set up to serve a small section of the kink community, find ourselves being sought out as a last-resort supplier to our National Health Service in a time of crisis, something is seriously wrong. In fact, it's scandalous," MedFetUK tweeted.

Virus experiment doc got magnets stuck up hooter

AN astrophysicist's attempt to ward off coronavirus landed him in hospital with MAGNETS stuck up his nose.

Dr Daniel Reardon was experimenting at home in Melbourne, Australia, as he tried to come up with a way to stop people touching their faces.

The Swinburne University of Technology fellow researcher had been trying to create a magnetic necklace that activated an alarm if users brought it too close to their face.

"It used a 'hall effect sensor' which detects magnetic fields," Dr Reardon said.

The magnets connected to each other while Dr Reardon was trying to remove them and got stuck up his nose when he lost his grip.

"The doctors at the hospital thought it was quite funny," he said.

MEGAN'S SELF-ISOLATING ADVICE

Take some bangin' nudes!

BREAST ADVICE: Boobs-out Meg is helping the nation isolate

LOVE Island* stunna Megan Barton-Hanson has shared her own novel way of keeping boredom at bay while we're all on lockdown.

She took to Instagram to update fans on what she's getting up to during self-isolation and teased she was passing the time by taking nude selfies and using sex toys.

Meg re-posted a meme drawn by designers Miss Gloria to her her Instagram story, with the caption "When your weekends feel like your weekdays: s–t to do on a #lockdown".

The activities included "Take some banging nudes", "Decide which vibrator you like best", "Hoover your room for the 300th time", and "Take a midday nap or two".

And while it's not clear how handy Megan is with a hoover, it's clear she knows her way around a sex toy.

Kinky

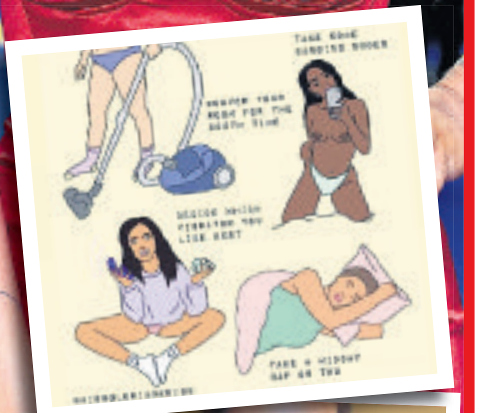
The reality star has launched her own range of 'tried and tested' sex toys with high street brand Ann Summers.

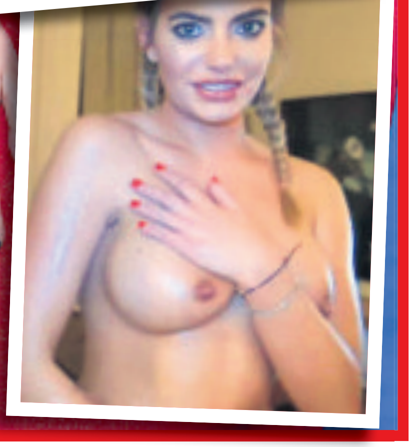
Her followers were thrilled with the revelation as the bombshell confessed to trying the goods out first, for her own "Megan Loves" range, with the company that specialises in selling sex toys and kinky lingerie.

The 26-year-old stunner shared the news as she posted a picture of herself in some racy underwear.

She said: "I'm so excited to be working with @annsummers to launch 'Megan Loves', my own edit of the tried and tested toys that I love the most and wanted to share with you all."

And as for "banging nudes" – well, see for yourself how Meg deals with them!





SEX CHEATS BEAT LOCKDOWN

AFFAIRS are booming during the coronavirus lockdown, with a 15 per cent rise in activity on cheating sites as frustrated partners stray while stuck at home.

Cheats are initiating new affairs and getting around the restrictions on movement by having video sex dates on Skype and Facetime.

IllicitEncounters.com, the UK's leading dating site for married people, has seen an 18% rise in activity from male members in the last month and a 12% rise from women.

More than half of male members (54%) said they had initiated new affairs in the last four weeks.

The main reason for this rise was "boredom" – given by 74% of male members – sparked by being stuck at home in the lockdown.

Almost half of female members (46%) had made contact with a new male partner in the last four weeks.

Two-thirds of female members (62%) said the crisis had exposed the weakness of their main relationship and made them realise they needed fresh stimulus.

IllicitEncounters.com sex and relationship expert Jessica Leoni said: "When we got over this crisis, there is going to be the biggest explosion of sex. It will be like the Baby Boom after the Second World War all over again.

"Cheats are crawling up the walls with frustration while stuck at home.

"They are bickering with their partners and seeking fresh relationships elsewhere.

Sessions

"We are seeing an explosion of Skype and Facetime affairs, with cheats having video sex sessions with new partners on their phones, laptops and home computers.

"As soon as the lockdown ends, there will be a huge rise in the number of physical affairs.

"The crisis is a huge wake-up call for anyone in an unhappy relationship.

"It is exposing all the deep fault-lines in failing relationships and making people realise that they need to start afresh when the lockdown ends.

"We are finding members are currently respecting the rules on social distancing and are having sex with new partners remotely.

"All that will change when the lockdown is finally lifted.

"People cannot wait to reboot their lives and start an affair."

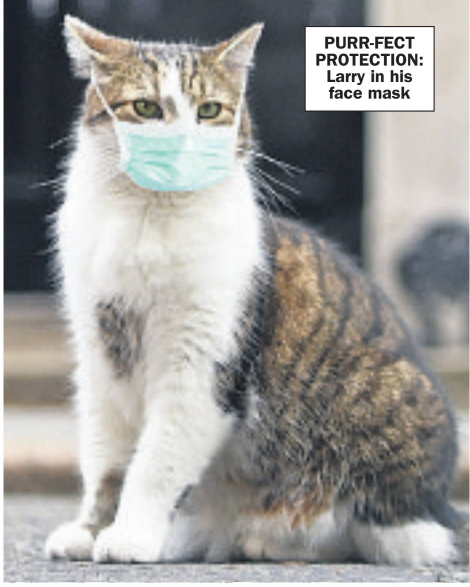
IF LARRY CAUGHT THE VIRUS THERE WOULD BE PANIC

Number 10 cat gets his own protective facemask



PURR-FECT PROTECTION: Larry in his face mask

THE Number 10 cat, Larry, has been issued with a protective surgical facemask as coronavirus sweeps Downing Street.

The PM and Health Secretary have been laid low with the bug, while Boris Johnson's chief strategist Dominic Cummings and Chief Medical Officer Chris Whitty have gone into isolation after developing symptoms.

Officials quickly adopted measures to stop the spread at the heart of government.

Rats

And that means no chances will be taken with Larry, who is officially "Chief Mouser to the Cabinet Office".

A Cabinet Office source said: "Larry is a treasured member of the administration.

"10 Downing Street is an old building and, without him, the place would be overrun with rats and mice within weeks.

"Then we wouldn't just be looking at coronavirus, we'd have cholera, plague, the lot.

"He's vital. If Larry caught the virus, there would be panic.

"As such, it was decided to keep him safe with a little cat face mask.

"We were told to have the mask in place by April 1st and we've beaten that deadline. We're ahead of the curve."

It's not yet clear if cats can contract coronavirus, but our leaders are taking no chances.

Our source explained: "We know from bitter experience that this virus can make the jump from bats' arseholes to Chinamen, so theoretically it could move from the PM to Larry.

"Nobody wants that."

News that Boris Johnson and health secretary Matt Hancock had developed Covid-19 emerged last week.

Both are now working at home in isolation.

The Downing Street website describes Larry's duties as "greeting guests to the house, inspecting security defences, and testing antique furniture for napping quality".

JOHNNY VEGAS JOINS VIRUS RELIEF EFFORT

'Expect to lose every second or third biscuit'

HOLLYWOOD star Russell Crowe has revealed comedian Johnny Vegas will be delivering food and medicine to people in need of help in his home town of St Helens, Merseyside, during the coronavirus crisis.

But the actor's announcement comes with a biscuit warning.

The bearded New Zealander shared a video on Twitter, relaying a message from his comedian friend Johnny asking for people who need assistance to call a helpline.

He said: "G'day folks, how are you doing? This is a message on behalf of my old mate Johnny Vegas.

"If you're in the St Helens area and you're having trouble getting food deliveries from your local supermarket, if you're NHS staff, a key worker, elderly, isolating, vulnerable, call this number – O1744 881881.

"The Steve Prescott Foundation and the Blackbrook rugby league team have set up a delivery service and they can help you out, they can pick up your shopping, they can maybe even pick up your medicine.

"One of the delivery workers is going be Johnny Vegas though, so expect to lose every second or third biscuit."

Crowe finished with an impression of Vegas.

Death toll is 'higher', say ONS figures

THE true toll of deaths from Covid-19 is higher than reports from hospitals suggest, according to new figures.

Data from the Office for National Statistics (ONS) for England and Wales shows there were 24 per cent more deaths relating to Covid-19 up to and including March 20, compared to hospital-only data for the same period.

The ONS looked at all deaths where Covid-19 was mentioned as a factor – including hospital deaths and those in the community and care homes.

A total of 210 deaths in England and Wales for the time period had Covid-19 mentioned on the death certificate, compared with 170 coronavirus-related deaths reported by NHS England and Public Health Wales.

Shop just once a week, urges Shapps

PEOPLE should only leave their home to go shopping ONCE a week as part of the restrictions imposed to combat Covid-19, a Cabinet minister has said.

Transport Secretary Grant Shapps suggested Britons should only buy the essentials in their once-weekly trip to the supermarket.

The official guidance issued by the Government does not set out how often people are allowed to leave their home to shop, but recommends that it is "as infrequent as possible".

"People know the rules that have been set, try and shop just once a week," Mr Shapps told the BBC.

"Just do the essentials, not everything else."

British Airways suspends all Gatwick flights

BRITISH Airways is suspending all its flights to and from Gatwick.

The carrier is one of many that are to stop serving the UK's second busiest airport due to the collapse in demand caused by the pandemic.

A British Airways spokesman said: "Due to the considerable restrictions and challenging market environment, like many other airlines we will temporarily suspend our flying schedule at Gatwick.

"We are contacting affected customers to discuss their options."

The airline will keep equipment for essential functions at the airport – such as maintenance, towing and cleaning – to enable it to restart operations quickly.

Just 33 flights were due to take off or land at Gatwick on Tuesday.

Ulrika laments ‘lack of holes being filled!’

SEX-STARVED Ulrika Jonsson revealed she’s going short as a result of the current lockdown.

Posting on social media, Ulrika, 52, couldn’t hide her frustration any longer.

The Swedish star (above) was putting IKEA furniture together when she made the cheeky dig at her sex life.

Posting to her army of Instagram followers she confirmed that she had not been to IKEA but purchased the homeware in February.

Putting together a DIY sideboard, Ulrika joked: “The only holes being filled in my house #justsaying,” as she slotted bits into place.

Earlier this month, Ulrika revealed she was involved with a mystery man after having five years without sex.

Speaking on Loose Women, she spoke candidly about her newfound sex life after the breakdown of her marriage.

The 24-year-old joins the likes of Miley Cyrus, Amber Heard, Emma Stone and many more in their desire to have their chapel hat-pegs devoured over far and wide by wearing see-through clobber.

A leading Hollywood agent said: “It is empowering for women, of course, but it’s also bloody great for sales.

PAEDO JACK 'MISSES HIS MUMMY AND HIS LEGO'

PICTURES: Walker tried to entice girl to send snaps

Nonce faces jail term

A TEENAGER dubbed 'Paedo Jack' is facing prison after admitting a string of sex offences against young women.

Jack Walker, 19, pleaded guilty to four offences of illegal sexual activity when he appeared in court via video link from Hull Prison where he has been remanded since August in a "tearful state" and "missing his mummy and Lego".

By ROY DURRIDGE
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

Prosecutor Charlotte Baines told the court the charges related to a 14-year-old girl.

Ms Baines said that Walker had been warned by both his mum and Humberside Police to stay away from the girl.

She added that one night after smoking together, Walker had "sat her on his knee and touched her".

Indecent

She told the court: "He tried getting her to go upstairs with him, saying 'come on, you know you want to do it'.

"She told police that she had messaged him saying how old she was. He sent her indecent pictures and asked her to do the same.

"He sent her messages about taking her virginity and making sure it wouldn't hurt. He tried to convince her to have sex with him on two or three occasions."

The court heard that Walker told the girl "not to tell anyone about what he said".

Miss Baines added: "He said 'I will get into trouble – you don't want that do you?'.

"One friend of the girl said that everyone knew him as 'Paedo Jack'."

Other charges against Walker related to another 14-year-old girl. Hull Crown Court heard that Walker had sex with her about 10 times.

Walker's defence, Paul Genney, told how he has a low IQ and had a traumatic childhood.

He added: "He has been tearful and crying while in prison and misses, in his words, his 'mummy and his Lego'. He's clearly something of a child himself."

Walker, of Bridlington, will be sentenced by Judge John Thackray on Friday, April 3.

PHIL'S ON A BENDER

Gay-hate trolls monster brave telly treasure

By GRACE HOOPER news@sundaysport.co.uk

BRAVE telly star Phillip Schofield has shared a post on social media from a boozy night in.

The brave This Morning co-host, 57, took to his Instagram account to share how he had decided to ditch his worries for an at-home bender.

Brave Phillip shared a video on his Instagram story, which saw him prepare a refreshing glass of Manchester gin and tonic over ice.

He then bravely proceeded to pick up the large bottle of Manchester gin in front of him and pretended to chug it down.

The clip was captioned: "I mean... F it!"

For millions of newly-gay Phil's fans, the moment was a ray of light in these dark days.

But the clip sparked some vile comments referencing brave Phil's newly revealed sexual identity.

Slur

One troll commented: "So what, Phil Schofield goes on a bender?", to which another internet user commented: "He is a bender."

"Bender" is a homophobic slur directed at gay men.

Another, referencing the way brave Phil's lips were wrapped round the neck of the bottle, jibed: "Practicing [sic] his technique."

Yet another online beast said: "Bet his [sic] dying for sum bum bum."

Last night a pal of brave Phil said: "It is outrageous that a man who has bravely revealed how he craves the cock should be subjected to this kind of abuse in 2020.

"Phil is bravely keeping up the nation's spirits at this dark time – and this is his reward?

"Phil's too brave to complain about it."

IT'S a pretty sure thing that "going to the car wash to get the motor scrubbed clean" is NOT on the government's list of acceptable reasons to leave your home.

Woman nabbed blowing fella in a pub doorway

A WOMAN was caught sucking off a man in the doorway of a bar during the lockdown.

Sarah Raetzloff, 34, was charged with indecent exposure after she was caught performing the sex act with a man in plain view of passersby, who were following the rules and keeping six feet apart.

Cops said they witnessed Raetzloff (above) on her knees performing oral sex on a man in the doorway of the closed pub.

She had been caught performing sex acts in public with the same man TWICE before that night.

Raetzloff was given a warning the first time and received an official caution the second.

On the third occasion, she got her collar felt and was hauled off to the lock-up and charged with indecency.

A police source in Nashville, Tennessee said: "That girl sure wanted cock in her mouth, but hat ain't the kind of thing we approve of hereabouts."

Gay dating app drains your power

BUMMING drains your phone battery – and that's OFFICIAL!

A survey by the website Uswitch showed that the gay hook-up site Grindr is the dating app that drains the most battery from mobile devices.

Uswitch analysed 50 apps and looked at how many battery-draining permissions each app used, and when it came to dating apps Grindr came out on top.

The app had 28 battery-draining permissions. It was followed by Bumble which has 20, Tinder, 18, and Hinge, 13.

However, none of the dating apps cracked the Top 10 apps that drain the most battery, with Google coming out on top with 72 power-sucking permissions, followed by Facebook with 50 and Facebook Messenger on 46.

KYLIE: I DON'T DO NUDES!

(Er...are you sure about that, luv?)

COVER STORY: Kylie (left) in YouTube video

KYLIE Jenner refuses to send nudes to boyfriends – despite posing totally naked or part-bare in a host of magazine shoots and Instagram pics.

She made the revelation in a new YouTube video, where she played the 'Most Likely To' game with three friends.

Despite posing nude for V magazine in 2017 and regularly posting racy selfies in skimpy outfits on her Instagram, Kylie said she would never send a nude to a man.

By JAYNE FERGUSON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

One of the questions posed to the group – which included Anastasia "Stassie" Karanikolaou, Yris Palmer and Victoria Villarroel – was who was most likely to have their nudes leaked.

Cheating

Kylie, 22, answered: "I don't send nudes."

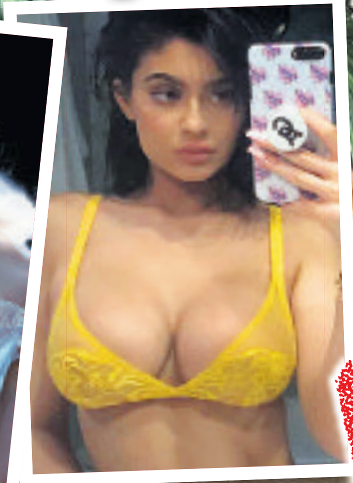
And she quickly dismissed the next query – whether you could forgive a cheating ex – with the retort: "F that, next question."

Kylie and her friends filmed the video a few weeks ago, before social distancing guidelines came into effect over the coronavirus pandemic.

The Kylie Cosmetics founder is now on lockdown at home with daughter Stormi, 2.

She has been keeping in touch with her fans, including live tweeting during the premiere episode of the latest season of Keeping Up With The Kardashians.

US Surgeon General Jerome Adams has called for social media influencers like Kylie to encourage followers to take the virus seriously and 'stay home'.



THE KILLER

ARSENAL: Williams amassed a huge range of weapons to get revenge on those he perceived had wronged him

ACCOMPLICE: Wife Kim acted as Williams's getaway driver

ERIC Williams had the world at his feet.

He'd worked hard all his life and risen to become a prominent lawyer in Kaufman County, Texas, marrying loyal wife Kim along the way in 1996.

The neighbourhood viewed him as a loveable eccentric, someone often seen riding around on his two-wheeled Segway.

He was eventually handed the role of Justice of the Peace – the equivalent of a UK magistrate – presiding on cases in the lower levels of the state court system.

Revenge

But when he was exposed as a thief in 2012, his world began to crumble.

Disgraced, suspended from practicing law, jobless and his reputation in tatters, Williams seethed and sought revenge.

He amassed an arsenal of 30 guns, police tactical gear and a getaway car.

Then, over the course of two brutal months in 2013, he went after the state prosecutors who'd seen him convicted and ridiculed.

By JUSTIN DUNN
news@sundaysport.co.uk

In the end, Williams – described as a "ruthless killing machine" – showed no emotion when he was handed a death sentence in December 2014.

His estranged wife, Kim, had turned police informant, blurting out the entire sorry affair in explosive courtroom testimony.

She said: "Eric was arrogant. He was thrilled. He acted like nothing happened."

When he was apprehended, Williams had two more names on his hit list as he planned to become a serial lawyer slayer, righting the "wrong" of his downfall.

As prosecutor Bill Wirskye pointed out: "These three murders were the culmination, the peak in an arc of past violence and anti-social, psychopathic behaviour on the part of Eric Williams.

"You will get a glimpse inside and see what lies beneath this facade of normalcy. You will find a deep-seated rage."

The rot had begun to set in during May 2011. Lori Freiman, who worked in IT at the Kaufman County court, returned to work one morning to find three of the department's new Dell computers had mysteriously gone missing.

She checked CCTV footage and was flabbergasted to see Judge Williams, now 49, hot-footing it away with them.

When police turned up at Williams's home to question him, they saw one of the computers sitting on his office desk, while another was stashed underneath some clothes.

Cornered, Williams came out fighting, saying he'd only swiped the tech because he'd been forced to "scrounge" for every bit of office equipment since taking on the job 12 months earlier.

By September 2012, Williams had been disbarred and found guilty of burglary. He was handed a two-year suspended jail sentence.

An appeal was swiftly batted away by the courts as Williams desperately tried to claw back some dignity.

He told a probation officer at the time: "My life has taken a drastic turn."

And soon, revenge was the only thing on his mind.

He then turned his attentions to the two men who'd seen him convicted – assistant district attorney Mark Hasse, 57, and 63-year-old district attorney Michael McLelland.

Wife Kim said: "He would talk really badly about them. He said he would like to kill them."

Williams scoured the internet. He bought a crossbow and learned how to produce homemade napalm.

Gouge

Speaking of Williams's plans to murder another lawyer, district court judge Glen Ashworth, Kim said: "He was going to wait until after the Super Bowl and go to Ashworth's house.

"He said he was going to shoot him with an arrow and then gouge out his stomach before filling it with the homemade napalm"

It was Mark Hasse, however, who became Williams's first victim.

He was walking to his car from the courthouse when a masked Williams approached, and shoved him.

Mark pleaded for his life, shouting, "I'm sorry! I'm sorry!" before Williams let rip with a volley of gunfire that left his victim on the pavement, in broad daylight, in a pool of his own blood.

Kim, the getaway driver, says her husband had been trying to recreate a scene from the 1993 western Tombstone, starring Kurt Russell, which features characters being targeted in the street.

She added: "His anger was my anger. He was excited. He was happy.

"It was a cold day and excitement was in the air.

"I couldn't watch the murder, though. I hurt. I couldn't watch him kill someone.

"I asked him if Mark had said anything and he told me Mark said, 'No, no – please, no'."

Car repair shop worker Martin Cerda witnessed the murder. Speaking in court, he said: "I heard the victim say the words, 'I'm sorry'. Then I saw the gunman shoot him.

"The deceased fell down then his attacker came up to him and fired again while he was on the ground."

Struggling

Attorney Linda Bush was another to glimpse the slaying. She said: "He shoved him again and at that point in time the shooter put the gun to Mark's neck and shot him."

Harrowing patrol car footage shows policemen performing CPR on the victim, desperately trying to save his life while he's heard struggling to breathe.

Tragically, he was declared dead at the hospital with gunshot wounds to his chest and head. Ironically, he had been carrying a gun of his own underneath his jacket. Such had been the ferocity and speed of Williams's assault, Mark had not even had chance to reach for it.

Incredibly, despite the shooting happening in a highly public place during the morning rush hour, Williams somehow managed to flee unrecognised. He took refuge for an astonishing two months.

Police launched a nationwide manhunt, voicing fears that Mark had been killed by the Aryan Brotherhood, a prison gang whose members he'd helped to put behind bars.

Williams, meanwhile, was slowly becoming ever more unhinged as he started planning his next massacre.

Kim revealed: "He was happy. He was now ready to kill Mike McLelland."

On March 30, Williams turned up at the home of Michael and his wife Cynthia, a nurse at a local mental health facility, armed to the teeth with handguns and assault rifles. He was wearing a tactical vest, night vision goggles and a sheriff's badge.

Kim, who waited outside the property, again as his getaway driver, explained: "He goes inside and I hear shots, a lot of shots.

"He didn't tell me about Mike but he did tell me about Cynthia. He told me he had to shoot her an extra time because she was still moaning."

Devastation

Dallas police officer Chris Tomlinson was one of the first on the scene after the alarm was raised.

He left the victims' family members in tears after describing in court the scene of devastation he witnessed inside the home.

He said: "There was Cynthia, lying on the ground. She was in a pool of dried blood. There was nothing anyone could do at that point."

Cynthia, a 65-year-old who loved quilting and who had recently been diagnosed with Parkinson's, was cut down with an AR-15 assault rifle.

During a later description of the gunshot wounds, jurors were shown pictures of how she'd suffered a shot to the top of her skull that travelled downwards and out of her chin.

She'd also sustained wounds to various other parts of her body, including her chest area and genitals.

Prosecutor Wirskye added: "Williams then stood over McLelland, pumping a torrent of lead into his body.

"He fired at least 20 rounds in under two minutes."

After the massacre, Williams was still at large. And, while the police manhunt raged all around him, he started getting cocky.

In a gloating email to the U.S. equivalent of CrimeStoppers, he boasted: "Do we have your full attention now?"

In the message he took credit for the killings, revealing many details that only the perpetrator could know.

But his pomposity was also his undoing – detectives were able to trace the email back to his home address.

There they uncovered a "treasure trove of evidence" and a cache of weapons – including the rifle that had been used to kill the McLellands.

Williams was arrested on April 18, 2013. Which, according to Kim, was just in the nick of time – she later revealed how he'd been plotting the murders of County Court Judges Erleigh Norville Wiley and Glen Ashworth.

And when he was found guilty of the slayings, Judge Michael Keasler dished out the ultimate punishment.

He said: "In addition to the three murders he had committed and the two that he was planning at the time of his arrest, Eric Williams had a general history of making threats when he became angry or wanted to control others.

Guilty

"He threatened to kill other attorneys over perceived insults and injuries.

"Taking all this into account, I must conclude that any rational person would find beyond a reasonable doubt that there was a probability Williams would commit criminal acts of violence constituting a continuing threat to society."

Kim Williams avoided a death sentence by pleading guilty to her role as her husband's assistant and was given 40 years behind bars.

JAILBIRD KILLS CHEAT GIRL AND HER LOVER

Burned bodies after catching them at it

RAGING: Bellamy told cops he 'lost it'

By COLIN HURST

news@sundaysport.co.uk

A RELEASED prisoner set his girlfriend and her new lover on fire after finding them having SEX in his own home.

Kenyatta Bellamy, 50, had left jail after spending a year behind bars for manslaughter while driving under the influence.

When he got to his house he found his girlfriend – who he had allowed to live in his house while he was behind bars – living with another man.

Bellamy took his girlfriend's son to a family member's house and went to have dinner with his cousin.

Bellamy told his cousin he was upset about his girlfriend's lover living in his house and asked to be dropped off at a petrol station because he didn't want to return home.

Smoke

His cousin later went to Bellamy's home and knocked on the door, but no one answered.

The cousin said he smelled smoke and called police.

Bellamy had killed his girlfriend and her lover after he became enraged when he saw them having sex.

He bound them in rope, beat them to death, poured petrol over the bodies and then lit a fire in the bedroom and closed the door.

He told cops he was power washing the outside of his house but, when he went inside, he saw the woman and her lover having sex and "lost it".

Bellamy allowed his girlfriend to live in his house in Davenport, Florida, and gave her money to pay the bills but didn't know she had asked the man to move in with her, police said.

Officers noted they smelled petrol in the home and found a petrol carrier inside.

Bellamy faces two counts of first-degree murder, one count of attempted felony murder and one count of arson.

CRAZED: Killer acted like a zombie

By GRACE HOOPER

A LOON who escaped from coronavirus quarantine stripped naked, ran amok and killed an 80-year-old grandmother by biting lumps out of her NECK!

The nut had been placed in compulsory lockdown after he returned home from a trip to another country with a serious infection.

But he broke free from medics, threw off his hospital gown and ran into the street starkers.

After tripping and falling, he spotted the gran sitting outside her house and launched his frenzied, zombie-style attack.

Targeted

Cops said the woman was admitted to hospital but died the following day during treatment.

The 35-year-old man – identified only by his first name Manikandan – was placed under quarantine measures in Tamil Nadu, southern India, amid COVID-19 fears after returning from Sri Lanka.

A police spokesperson said: “The accused, Manikandan, has a history of mental illness, for which he was treated in Madurai back in 2010.

“He disrobed himself and ran from his officials. He tripped and fell one hundred metres from his home and targeted the elderly woman, who was sitting outside her house.

“According to the man’s family, ever since Manikandan returned from Sri Lanka, he was stressed about losses his business suffered there and his mental health deteriorated.”

A murder case has been filed against Manikandan.

President Narendra Modi imposed a nationwide “curfew” on India’s population of 1.3 billion people.

With India making up one-fifth of the world’s population, it is the largest lockdown since the COVID-19 outbreak began.

India’s health system is bracing itself for a “tsunami” of 300 million coronavirus victims flooding into its hospital wards.

‘Fixated’ on women serial w*nker jailed

A SERIAL wanker who films himself masturbating behind random women in public places has been jailed for 90 days and ordered to undergo counselling.

Tyler Clough, 24, pleaded guilty to charges of committing an indecent act and possession of child pornography.

A court in Canada heard Clough was arrested as he walked out of the Niagara Detention Centre in Thorold, Ontario, after serving a sentence for a similar offence.

The court heard Clough would become “fixated” on women in stores, approach them from behind and start masturbating, recording his actions on his phone.

CAR SEX PAIR IN PEE TISSUE FIGHT

A COUPLE found naked and wrestling in their car parked outside a shopping mall got into a fight about a “pee tissue” after they had sex.

Witnesses called cops when they spotted Robert Janisch and his girlfriend engaged in a naked fight.

When police arrived, they noticed the woman had some injuries to her neck.

Officers said the woman told them that she and her boyfriend had sex in a car outside Clearwater Mall in Florida and she then needed to urinate.

She got out and used a tissue to wipe her flaps clean but accidentally tossed it onto Janisch and an argument started.

Police said Janisch admitted they had been drinking and he got mad when she threw the “pee napkin” at him.

Janisch (left), 21, from Minnesota, was arrested on a charge of domestic violence by strangulation.

AROUND one in eight of stay-at-home workers keep their cameras switched off during video calls – because they're flashing too much flesh.

Mentimeter, an interactive presentation tool, surveyed 1,500 people working from home amid the COVID-19 pandemic and found 12 per cent admitted to keeping video cameras off during meetings on Zoom, Skype or Google Hangouts, as they were naked or only partially clothed.

The study found 44% admitted dressing in more professional attire specifically for video meetings, while 16% had re-arranged their homes to look more professional in the background of a video call.

Cluckin' hell!

POULTRY CRIME: Pineda (above)

A FIEND has been arrested and charged after he was caught having sex with a CHICKEN at an egg factory.

Reinaldo Pineda, 69, was charged with bestiality after being caught on camera doing the fowl deed.

According to investigator James Smith, the Clinch County Sheriff's Department in Georgia received a tip about security camera video showing Pineda having sexual intercourse with the bird.

The incident occurred at a commercial egg production facility.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Threats

Smith said he has confirmed the man sexually assaulting the chicken in the video was Pineda.

Pineda, of Clinch County, was released on bail on condition he not go anywhere near the facility.

But three days later he was charged with making terroristic threats.

In a video Pineda allegedly threatened others, saying he would "shoot them all like dogs" and then shoot himself.

Bestiality is a felony in Georgia and carries a sentence of one to five years in prison.

A police source said: "A lot of people are laughing about this, but it's no laughing matter.

"Birds feel pain like any other living creature.

"Although we could identify the perpetrator, it was impossible to identify the victim, as there are thousands of birds in the facility.

"We couldn't cull them all, so that poor chicken could end up as someone's dinner."

We're not looking at your HAIR, Ireland!

BUSTY Ireland Baldwin took to social media to show off her self-cut hair – but NOBODY was looking at her tresses.

The 24-year-old daughter of Alec Baldwin and Kim Basinger was clearly feeling herself when she took to Instagram to flaunt her svelte frame in a floral swimsuit.

"I found a swimsuit," captioned Ireland, who also admitted that she gave herself "a haircut yesterday because who cares anymore".

Ireland had her freshly cut tresses neatly styled into a half-up, half-down hairdo.

A fan said: "Oh, has she had a haircut? Can't say I noticed. I was looking at her knockers.

"If I were Alec, I'd still be bathing her. Though I don't suppose we can even do that, what with the lockdown and all."

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Ava,

I'M a university student and, as well as enjoying a great social life, I'm also having regular threesomes with two of my lecturers.

They're both blonde and aged 36 and 40. I'm 21. I first started shagging them a couple of months ago when I went to see one of them for help on a project.

As we were leaving, her pal turned up and said they were going for a drink and asked if I would like to join them.

After we'd had a few, we went back to my flat and it wasn't long before we were all kissing each other.

I had a massive hard-on as they both stripped off and started sucking my cock. I ended up shagging them both.

I've had them loads of times since then, but now I'm starting to wonder if I'm doing the right thing.

What should I do?

SW, west Midlands

Ava says…

YOUR excellent course work could get you a Masters degree in shagging!

Dear Ava,

I AM a 22-year-old virgin who is finding it really hard to pop my cherry.

I am reasonably fit and good looking, but things never seem to work out with anyone I may be interested in sleeping with.

I have met loads of girls when I have been out at bars and clubs, but none of them seem to want to sleep with me.

Even girls I have casually dated have never offered sex. I have tried everything and I am getting very frustrated.

I am thinking of visiting a hooker – just to get the deed out of the way, so I can relax.

Do you think this is a good idea for me?

TF, south London

Ava says…

NOT really. Stop worrying about losing your virginity, the right girl will come along eventually.

Nympho blonde lover has a massive hubby!

Dear Ava,

A FEW weeks ago I was sitting in a pub alone having a quiet drink when in walked a lovely looking blonde in her mid-40s.

We made instant eye contact and not long afterwards she came and sat next to me.

After we'd had a few drinks, I asked if she wanted to go back to my house.

She was a bit nervous at first in case her husband found out, but she agreed.

Once in the house she was a complete nympho and soon had my trousers down and her lips round my manhood.

After she'd finished giving me an expert blowjob, I lifted her skirt to find black stockings and suspenders and tiny black panties, which I pulled to one side before fking her hard and fast.

I thought that would be the end of it, but the other night I was in the pub again when she came in with her husband.

And to make things worse, she came and sat next to me.

Her husband, who is massive, was chatting with his mates and she was soon fondling my manhood through my trousers.

Now she's told me she wants to move in with me. But I'm scared of her hubby.

What should I do?

PT, east Yorkshire

Ava says…

TELL her it was just a bit of fun… then run!

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

Best pal's horny babe is addicted to giving oral

Dear Ava,

MY best mate's bird is really fit – she's 19, blonde with lovely tits and is addicted to giving blowjobs.

Her love of oral is well-known around our area and she has sucked off five of my mates.

We've also been having regular oral sessions in my car and a couple of weeks ago, after many months of trying, she finally let me shag her.

After I'd taken her doggy-style on the back seat, she told me that it was her big fantasy to be filmed while fking five blokes.

I said to her that I would see what I could do.

Not surprisingly, I soon found some volunteers and last week me and four mates knobbed her for three hours.

She was wearing black stockings and sussies when we got to her flat.

They weren't on for long and I did her from behind, while another guy slid underneath and took her up the arse.

Another mate with a nine-inch cock thrust it into her mouth and she wanked the other two off.

I saw her again the next night on my own. She wore a saucy nurse's uniform for me and loved it when I tied her to the bed, spanked her lightly and then pounded into her sopping hole.

Now she says that she would like to make another video of her shagging SIX blokes.

I've got a new team in place and we're set to make that video next week.

The only problem is that I feel a bit guilty when I'm with my pal – as he's started talking about marrying her.

Do you think I should tell him that his bird is a right old slag?

BB, Tyneside

Ava says…

NO. But stop taking advantage of her.

Dear Ava,

I AM a 50-year-old businessman and I have been happily married to my wife for over 20 years.

We have a really active sex life and we both like to get kinky in the bedroom at times.

It's nothing too outrageous – just the occasional bit of bondage – but recently I have had the urge to dress up as a baby and wear a giant nappy.

But I am too scared to tell her in case she thinks I've gone a bit too "weird".

What should I do?

GR, Wiltshire

Ava says…

DON'T be a baby– just tell her!

I scored in Dublin – but it could be an own goal!

Dear Ava,

I'M a 17-year-old apprentice with an engineering firm and I quickly earned a place as the main striker in the works' footie team.

In fact, I scored so many goals that the team was pretty successful and the captain invited me on his stag weekend in Dublin a few weeks before the coronavirus hit the country hard.

There were twenty of us and we all pulled a bird on the first night.

My girl was 24 and after we'd been at the stout we staggered back to a hotel and got a room.

She was obviously gagging for it and wasted little time stripping to her panties. I threw my clothes off and groped and sucked her tits, which were an F-cup.

Screamed

Then she went down on me and gave me the best blowjob I'd ever had, before spreading her legs to show me her wet lips.

I was down there like a rat down a hole. Then I turned her over and whacked it into her doggy-style.

After half-an-hour we both screamed as we came and collapsed in exhaustion.

But since I got back to England, I've been getting lots of texts from her saying she wants to come over as soon as possible and move in with me.

But I live with my mum. What should I do?

DB, Merseyside

Ava says…

TELL her the truth. You don't owe this girl anything – she enjoyed herself as much as you.

Dear Ava,

I'M quite new to the swinging game, but my hubby has been at it for years.

He just loves the sight and sound of 30 couples going at it in a private sex club.

After we got married he suggested I join in some of the fun, but I put it off until he brought home a DVD and persuaded me to watch it with him.

I had imagined all the women getting stuffed would be superslim model types.

But most of them looked about 50.

There was one old dear getting it in the arse from a big hunky stud – and she looked like she'd gone there straight from the retirement home.

But I also saw that a lot of the fellas had huge members.

I was intrigued, so I agreed to go to a bash with my hubby – where I grabbed hold of the nearest cock I could find and started wanking it.

As I was doing this I felt a hand tickle my fanny and then fingers going up.

Before I knew it I had a 10-incher up my pussy, one in my hand and a third in my mouth.

Now I can't get off on my hubby's cock alone.

RJ, Essex

Ava says…

WELL, it was his idea!

#MY SEX FANTASY

'I want a master to spank me and boss me about'

“MY big turn on is the idea of being a sex slave to a handsome, confident man who is experienced in BDSM.

I have always loved being dominated – I just haven’t met anyone who is really into taking control of me and being my master... but I would love that!

There’s something very raw about the idea of surrendering and being ordered to do whatever it takes to please him.

I’d love to be dressed up in a skintight latex bodice with stockings and high heels as he spanks my bum and bosses me about.

I fantasise about my master teasing me, perhaps making me touch myself for his entertainment. But not allowing myself to orgasm.

Then he’d command me to drop to my knees and open my mouth. He’d demand I take him deep throat while he really fks my face, grabbing my hair as I look up, seeking his approval.

Then he’d reward me with a face full of salty cum. And only then would be use a vibrator on me and let me climax.

It’s liberating for me... it’s like saying I give up control and I’m not responsible for how naughty things get and for breaking social taboos!”

ALWAYS HOME OF TOPLESS BABES

BLONDE bombshell Nikita Valentin has a very naughty secret she wants to share with you – she has a HUGE sex toy collection.

In fact, it's so big that she has to store them in an entire chest of drawers.

The 32-year-old Slovakian reckons normal shagging isn't enough to satisfy her – so she has been steadily collecting dildos, vibrators and various other implements of sexual pleasure for the last decade.

And the 34DD stunna reckons she still hasn't got enough.

She said: "I know more than 300 dildos is a lot, but I need every one.

"I never know if I'm going to be in the mood for a gentle clit vibration, a butt plug up my arsehole or a huge 12-inch rubber cock to fill me up.

"That's why my collection is so big and it even has its own chest of drawers."

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Smallc and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

LOLA

PERSONAL trainer Charlie Briggs would love to work up a sweat with Lola and her gigantic bosoms.

The 30-year-old gym bunny, from Rotherham, South Yorks, would even give the Birmingham beauty free training sessions.

And he'd be more than happy to offer his support to her humongous 43G sweater-stretchers while she's enjoying a good workout.

He said: "I'm a boob man and I've never seen a bigger pair than Lola's.

"I'd love to hold those melons, although they'd be more than a handful!"

EPIPHANY

LIFEGUARD Jamie Walker begged us for a picture of his favourite topless babe, Epiphany.

The 28-year-old works at his local pool in Dorset during the winter but usually jets off to America's beaches as a lifeguard in summer.

Although there's usually tons of Yank babes to keep his eye on, it's Chester's 28-year-old Epiphany and her 30D boobs he can't get out of his head.

Jamie said: "I love meeting women but his summer that's not going to happen

"Instead, I'd love to give Ephiphany the kiss of life – she's stunning."

DANNII HARDWOOD

CHEF Kevin Bennett would be happy to serve up his meat 'n' two veg to gorgeous glamour legend Dannii Harwood.

Kevin, 44, cooks up a storm in his local pub kitchen in Aberystwyth and he'd give himself to his 32-year-old Welsh neighbour on a plate.

He said: "Those 32F boobs get me going every time.

"If she ever comes up from Neath to Aberystwyth I'd definitely give her a taste of my sausage!

"I'd serve up sausage for starter, meat and two veg for her main and then she can sample some cream for dessert – she'd have the best meal of her life!"

The 26-year-old, from Stafford, said: "I don't think you can ever forget that the fans are the ones who make you.

"Twitter gives me an opportunity to keep in touch with the people who enjoy my work 24/7.

"Most people who contact me are really polite – Babestation viewers are such gentlemen.

"But a few people do contact me and make some VERY saucy suggestions.

"Of course, I like them too – and some of the things people suggest make me VERY horny."

The 30E beauty added: "When I'm performing on camera, I think of all those hunky guys out there watching me.

GUINEAS HOPE: Pinatubo

NEWMARKET READY TO GET RACING ON TRACK

HORSERACING

NEWMARKET trainer James Tate believes the town can get racing back on track next month.

There are wide open spaces on the town's famous course and a ready supply of horses within walking distance to hold meetings.

The BHA put the sport on hold at the end of April and already big races like the Grand National have been lost to the calendar.

The sport has been formulating a plan to come out of hibernation on May 1 with a meeting each day held behind closed doors.

Newmarket is the natural place to start given that horses are already exercising on gallops next to the racecourse even during the shutdown.

Tate believes races could be staged even allowing for the current rules on social distancing.

He said: "I would be behind racing returning to Newmarket — because with everything applied, it would be a sensible place to have a meeting before anywhere else.

PLAN: James Tate

Stall

"You could run a meeting with Newmarket-based trainers and only use professional jockeys — and that could just be Newmarket-based ones, because nobody would have to travel far or stay over either."

He also thinks you could space out the horses so jockeys were only near each other while the race was being run.

Tate added: "You could have 10-runner fields and have a horse in every other stall.

"I'm sure they would race upsides each other in a race but once they pull up, they could go back in single file.

"It would keep the racing world ticking over."

There are hopes that the Classics — which usually kick off with the 2,000 Guineas can be saved.

Hot favourite Pinatubo is still in training with that in mind.

But Tate understands that sorting out Covid-19 has to come before racing.

He added: "We all want to get back to normal — but everyone has to focus on the outbreak and doing the right things to support those that have the disease and those that will get it."

EUROPEAN BOSSES LOOKING TO

DECISION TIME FOR FOOTBALL

Video conference featuring 55 nations tries to come up with plans to finish season

ALL 55 countries in UEFA will have a crunch meeting today to sort out how the football season will end.

By JOHN ANTHONY

The conference call will attempt to find a way forward for all leagues — including in England and Scotland.

The coronavirus has hit right across Europe with most countries in some kind of lockdown that prevents matches being played.

Euro 2020 has already been put back for a year and there are growing calls to cancel the current season and start again in September. That would have financial consequences around TV deals that could cost teams millions.

UEFA is bringing all football bosses together via video link to sort out when seasons are going to be played — if at all.

The governing body has always been against calling the current season off and points out that players contracts — that usually finish in June — can be extended where needed.

A statement said: "The meeting will look at developments across all Uefa national team and club competitions, as well as discussing progress at Fifa and European level on matters such as player contracts and the transfer system."

UEFA president Aleksander Ceferin has a tough job coming up with an answer that is acceptable right across the continent.

But he is adamant that there are several options on the table.

Lost

He also accepts that the season has to start again before August.

Ceferin said: "There is a plan A, B and C. We can start in May, in June or the end of June.

"If we can't do it on any of those three dates then the season probably would be lost.

"There is also the possibility to finish the season at the start of next season, with next season starting a little late.

"It would have to work with respect to the players and the signing periods."

There is a further issue for the Premier League if they wanted to call it quits.

In their rules, they also need the permission of the Football Association and Football League to void a season.

The latter has already said it wants to avoid that at all costs. It means a way needs to be found to get through the remaining 92 Premier League fixtures of the 2019-20 campaign.

START MATCHES AGAIN NEXT MONTH

BIG PRIZE: Will there be a Premier League title this year?

Most teams have nine games left while Man City, Sheffield United, Arsenal and Aston Villa have 10.

Rights

The Premier League has been floating an idea of playing out the matches behind closed doors starting next month — which seems a little ambitious.

That's because failing to play them could mean handing back more than £750m in lost TV rights.

Matches would be played home and away as normal but with no crowd and minimal staff.

The move would need to be supported by the government and the PFA.

The question of how players could travel the length and breadth of the country is the most obvious one.

There was an earlier idea to play all the games at the FA training headquarters at St George's Park where there are 10 top quality pitches.

The players would then be based nearby and come in and out for games.

But the idea of having superstars worth hundreds of millions all cooped up in one place seems a non-starter with the nation in lockdown.

Kane 'going nowhere' says Wright

ARSENAL legend Ian Wright says Spurs fans have nothing to worry about when it comes to Harry Kane.

The striker said that he could leave White Hart Lane in the future if success doesn't come the club's way.

But Wrighty has told fans of his deadly rivals that Kane won't be going anywhere in a hurry.

The Gunners legend said: "Now they have a manager who is a notorious winner of trophies.

"Kane did say 'next year will be the first chance the gaffer will have to bed his values into the team'. That says to me he is somebody who is already thinking of next year, so he's not going anywhere.

"I'd give this manager a chance with his pre-season, do next season and see where it goes. Because from when he made his debut up to now, I think he has given them everything he can.

"If nothing happens and Harry decides to leave then you have you have to say 'well, he's under Mourinho, nothing has changed'. He wants to win medals.

"You can't have that kind of ability, that kind of goalscorer who is able to win matches, and not win anything. You can't."

WORRY: Jamie Murray

Murray: It's no go for Wimbo

WIMBLEDON mixed doubles legend Jamie Murray says he can't how Wimbledon happens this summer.

The All England Club is having an emergency meeting today as it tries to cope with coronavirus destroying the tennis schedule.

Already the French Open has been moved from its usual slot at the start of the season to some time in September.

But they have clay courts that can be prepared any time during the year.

That's not a luxury in SW19 where the grass courts are only really playable for top tennis in the middle of summer.

The turf tennis season is all over by late August when the nights get shorter and the surface becomes too slippery for decent players.

Murray — who has two doubles titles at Wimbo — thinks that means there's no way of playing this season.

It would be the first time the tournament hasn't gone ahead since the Second World War.

Daylight

Murray said: "I think for them it is difficult to move the tournament back for many reasons, because you are running into other tournaments.

"I guess for the moment it is still on the schedule. Even things like daylight, to host the event, each week that passes you get less light to play the tournament. They play until 9 or 10pm each night at Wimbledon.

"I guess everyone has been waiting on it, it is obviously the next big event in the calendar that is on for the moment.

"I think there are meetings about what their plans are.

"That will give us insight into what that means for our grasscourt season but also the rest of the season going forward after that."

Murray admits it's strange to have no tennis and not to be travelling all over the world.

He added: "We are used to being on the road all the time, we are in different cities each week.

"When it comes to Friday and Saturday when you are starting to play for big prizes at the business end of the tournament, even then your mind is ready to go to the next event because that is what you're programmed to do."
